Volvo Construction Equipment Dealer, Chadwick-BaRoss Inc. Assumes Volvo's New Road Machinery Compaction Equipment Sales & Service, Acquired by Volvo CE in the purchase of the Ingersoll Rand Road Machinery Division in 2007.

Westbrook, ME – June 9, 2008 – New England's Volvo Construction Equipment dealer, Chadwick-BaRoss, Inc. has recently been announced the authorized Volvo Machinery & Compaction Equipment Dealer along with its full line of construction and forestry equipment. Volvo CE acquired the road machinery division of Ingersoll Rand in 2007, and has been converting the line over to the Volvo brand and image. The product line includes the complete range of soil and asphalt compaction machines.

Chadwick-BaRoss, Inc. presently operates four (4) Volvo full sales and service branches in New England and has added the road machinery products to its construction equipment inventories in its marketing territory. Locations in Maine include Caribou, Bangor, Westbrook, and Concord, New Hampshire. Product manager, Mark Silva states, "We are excited to now be the authorized Volvo Road Machinery Dealer in Maine and New Hampshire. Our facilities and service technicians have been working on this equipment for years, and now with the Volvo reputation for safety, efficiency, and quality with this equipment we will be offering customers nothing less than the best service and product available..." Silva adds, "When Volvo acquired the Ingersoll Rand compaction line, we were definitely ready. Our techs have been servicing those machines for decades, and now we will only be adding to that expertise with all the continued training available to us from Volvo CE in North Carolina - with that, customers are going to know that they are making a safe and informed decision when they come to us for this new product line." Chadwick-BaRoss, Inc. will provide on site or in shop service, as well as carry the parts necessary to keep their customers' machines productive and on the job.

Chadwick-BaRoss, Inc. began in 1929 as the Portland Tractor Company in Portland, Maine. Beginning as a dealer for Oliver crawler and wheel tractors and Walters all-wheel drive trucks, Chadwick-BaRoss is now one of the largest multi-line heavy equipment dealers in New England. They represent the finest manufacturers in the industry; meeting the needs of the heavy equipment markets from Maine to Connecticut with five conveniently located facilities. Through their years of emphasis on product development and support, Chadwick-Baross, Inc. has become uniquely positioned to provide a selection of the best equipment available anywhere with support unsurpassed in the industry it serves.
